

"A's' Academy - Empowering Our Future Leaders

Facilitators

The "A's' Academy brings in the most experienced and notable facilitators to train, motivate and strengthen our undergraduate leaders.

Noah Borton - Sigma Nu Fraternity, Co-Lead Facilitator, Eastern Michigan University Coordinator for Greek Life

"I really think when you look at the total package of A's Academy from the location to the staff and facilitators to the programming, it is up there as one of the premiere president's or leadership academies out there right now. We didn't let them get away with the easy answers and the surface level questions. We really raised our level of expectation for these men and they showed that they were ready to meet the challenge. I just facilitated at UIFI last week and we had a student there who had attended A's Academy. He really stood out as a leader who could drive the conversation and who could challenge those around him while also developing an even stronger position on what Delta Chi means to him. It was obvious that his experience at A's Academy had put him on a higher plane than those around him."

Dave Westol - Past CEO of Theta Chi Fraternity, President & CEO of Limberlost Consulting, Author of "Death of A Fraternity"

"You have shown considerable courage in the programming and the outreach. An aspect of this conference that stands out is that Delta Chi Fraternity has brought in men and women from a variety of backgrounds and experiences and indeed, involvement in the Greek lettered community, to serve as facilitators. That speaks so well for Delta Chi. You're going to get very good facilitators when you expand like that. This program pushes the undergraduates harder than any other program that I have been involved as a facilitator. I like the fact that we go down to dusk and beyond, that we stimulate thought and it's not simply mechanics. We are encouraged to push the undergraduates to think about values, ethics and decision making practices; All very valuable things that are going to be extremely important to them as they proceed with their leadership careers."

Motivation

The Chapter "A"s attending the Academy are highly motivated as leaders of their chapters to learn unique and proven ways to resolve chapter issues and motivate their members.

Kyle Klemmer
Oshkosh

"I'm excited to get home right now. I've been on the phone nonstop with all my guys and I have meetings lined up for every day after I'm back."

Dillon Pratt
Oklahoma

"I didn't know where this was and what to expect but then we got to this big, beautiful monastery and I was blown away by the whole thing. I could never imagine that I would take as much away from it. I feel really motivated now and my goal is go back to Oklahoma and keep the motivation going."

Antonio Renda
Florida

"Coming here, in general, it's impossible not to be enthusiastic. You have all this culture and history of the Abbey. You get this inherent motivation from the monks and Father Anthony (Father Anthony Vinson, Northwest Missouri '98) and seeing that there are other Delta Chi elsewhere in the world that are doing big things. It makes you want to go back and make your chapter bigger and stronger."
